

Qatar Hot Passage IP65

Overview

This IP65-rated consumer unit features a 100 Amp double pole isolator switch and four pre-installed Type B MCBs (6A, 10A, 16A, 32A), designed for outdoor or harsh environment use. Each device is labeled with a two-digit code (e., IP65), where the first digit represents protection against solids, and the second indicates protection against liquids. What Is an IP Rating?

IP Rating (Ingress Protection or International Protection marking) is a standardized system used globally. The Ingress Protection (IP) rating system, defined by the IEC 60529 standard, classifies the degree of protection provided by mechanical casings and electrical enclosures against intrusion, dust, accidental contact, and water. Electrical enclosures are needed for housing delicate and often dangerous electrical. IP stands for Ingress Protection or is sometimes interpreted as International Protection. The higher the number, the better the protection.
