

Short-term tariff policy for optical modules

Overview

At present, the import of optical modules into the United States requires a 10% basic tariff, but according to Executive Order No. 14257, two exemptions have been obtained: one is the exemption from the 245% ad valorem tariff on Chinese goods, and the other is that. Alexandria, VA — August 4, 2025 - The White House has issued formal notice that updated reciprocal tariffs for key trade partners will go into effect beginning August 7, 2025, at 12:01 a. EDT, ending a temporary pause in enforcement first signaled in April 2025. This article delves into the complex and far-reaching effects of the Trump-era tariffs on the global optical. The US government has announced increased tariffs affecting multiple countries, impacting the optical industry's supply chains and financial models. China faces a separate tariff increase on August 12, necessitating strategic adjustments in sourcing and logistics for businesses. These new measures pose a substantial challenge to the global.
